Chaplain's Message: Fr. Marcel E. Okwara, CSsR

Dear brothers,

As we go through the holy season of Advent, one temptation we should strive to avoid is the tendency to reduce Advent to a cozy and sentimental season. In reality, Advent is preparation for revolution. It is a revolution proclaimed by Isaiah, announced by John the Baptist, which reached its momentum in Christ Jesus. About 500 years after the Israelites returned from Babylonian exile, there appeared in Judean desert a strange figure who dressed in animal skins, ate locust and honey— John the Baptist. When people who came to listen to him asked him, “Who are you? (Jn. 1:22) he replied in the words of prophet Isaiah, “I am the voice of one crying out in the desert, make straight the way of the Lord” (Jn. 1:23).

Many centuries before him, Isaiah had said that a voice of one is calling in the wilderness and asking people to make straight in the desert a highway for our God (Is. 40:3). Upon his emergence on the public scene, John the Baptist asserts that he is that voice. Thereafter John said, “...there is one among you whom you do not recognize...” (Jn. 1:26b). He called him “the Lamb of God.” The “one among you” is a young Galilean rabbi whose message is very simple and unambiguous: Repent, for the Kingdom of God is at hand (Matt. 4:17). What does sin do to us? Sin distances us from God. We are meant to be close to the heart of God. According to St. Augustine, sin is a journey into the land of the unlikeness. We are made in the likeness of God, but when we sin, we wander far away from where we are meant to be. Repentance therefore is a return from a spiritual exile. To facilitate the return to our heavenly Father who is eagerly waiting for us like a good shepherd, we need to travel by God’s high way. Who is the highway? He is precisely the one that John the Baptist called “the Lamb of God,” Jesus Christ the Lord. He is the Way, the Truth, and the Life.

On the first Sunday of Advent, our Lord urges us to “Be watchful! Be alert! Be alert to the signs of the passing of all things. Be alert to the fact that all human acquisitions, achievements, accomplishments, successes, pleasure, the joys and goods of this world will one day be taken away from us. Be alert to the futility of what St. Thomas Aquinas called the four false substitutes for God, which are wealth, pleasure, power and honor. Be consciously aware that all these vanities, all of culture, all of nature, and even the cosmos (universe) itself will come to a crashing end. Be watchful and alert to the fact that everything as we know it will definitely come to a halt. When it comes to the end of all things, even scientists, especially physicists agree that the entire universe will run out of fuel and energy to continue to exist. They tell us that one day, the universe will fade out in a great freeze or burn out like a great fry.

Now, with all these cataclysmic tales, you might be tempted to despair, and to say, “Then what the heck?” “What’s the point?” “Why bother?” You might even be tempted to fall into the existentialist philosophy of Albert Camus and his colleagues who say that “life is absurd.” That there is no meaning in life, and we can’t make a meaning out of it. Rather than submit to the meaninglessness of life, we can look to the steadfast love of God, which brought the

THEREFORE, IS A RETURN FROM A SPIRITUAL EXILE.

PRAYER OF THE MONTH

God of mercy, you chose a tax collector, Saint Matthew, to share the dignity of the Apostles. In doing so, you showed us that with you, all things are possible, and that though we are sinners, we too can answer your noble call to evangelize the world. By St. Matthew's example and prayers help us to follow Christ and remain faithful in your service.

Chaplain Message Cont'd from p. 1—

... entire universe into existence from nothing, which sustains it even now, and which will one day draw us to a life and joy that is beyond this world and that knows no bound. We can turn to the One whose love is eternal, whose patience does not run out, whose mercy is boundless, and whose power to save is mighty and persistent. This is why Advent is a preparation for a revolution. A revolution that urges us to be alert in the spirit. To wake up from our spiritual slumber. To change and repent for the Kingdom of God is close at hand. Yes, a kingdom is at hand and a new King has emerged. Change and live under his lordship.

May these Advent Candles guide us on our return from our spiritual exile.

New members are the life blood of our Order! New members give the council they join more manpower to accomplish the good works that the Knights are known for across the world. It gives the new member an opportunity to give back to his community and help his fellow man. It infuses the council with new and fresh ideas. It's our responsibility to let them know what benefits they are missing by not joining us. So, invite someone today. Our approach to membership can be summarized in four points:

LEAD WITH FAITH—becoming a better Catholic man, father, and husband through prayer, study and encouragement from fellow brother Knights. SERVE OTHERS—This is where our council excels. Let them know about our Coats for Kids programs, the support for the Special Olympics, the Global Wheelchair Mission, and the Ultrasounds Initiative. DEFEND YOUR VALUES—From the March for Life to Christian Refugee Relief to the Ultrasound Program, new members can get involved in issues that are close to their hearts and have a dramatic impact on our hurting world. PROTECT YOUR FAMILY—This includes the Consecration to the Holy Family, our Family of the Month and Year and the protection afforded by our Order's highly rated insurance and saving products.

Brother Knights are encouraged to allow young families that need coverage to benefit from the Knights of Columbus policies while learning more about the fraternal side. With so much good, why can membership be a challenge? Maybe it's been my approach. I often assumed other men would want to join to help us, the council. But shouldn't I be inviting men to join to help them, ...help them along their faith journey,... help them discover the joy of being of service to others, ... help them become better Catholic men? So tell them why you joined, what it's meant to you, how you are better for it and how you hope you've made the world just a little bit of a better place because of your membership in the Knights. Then ask him what he's looking for...I think no matter what he says, we'll have a solution for it...right here in this council.

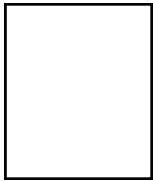

Vivat Jesus!

LADIES AUXILIANS MESSAGE

Hello Ladies,
We are being called to serve our Lord by serving others in their time of need. Ideas of how we can do this is by calling family members, friends & neighbors, maybe cooking a meal or baking cookies for someone or sharing your garden produce with others or sending a card. Letting others know that are they are loved and that they matter is so important. Let us live joyfully serving the Lord.

Patrick Farrelly, District Deputy 52, 763-218-3816

Brothers,

We are called to serve. Inviting men to join us is an important service to them, their families and our community! Answering the call to service is what we do because we are Knights and Knights serve.

I welcome our newest brother Knights and encourage you to connect with your new brothers however they meet and make a difference for your parish and your community. Our work is important!!

I hope you will join me in staying active as a Knight while our world needs us more than ever. You can even make a difference right from your home by calling men and inviting them to share what we have. No risk of infection. Just share your story.

Have friends and family join online at kofc.org/joinus and enter their parish name. Give them your council number to include as they sign up. Give them your member number to get credit for inviting them. Getting them into your Council is as simple as having them sign up for and watch a 30-minute video exemplification with their family at their convenience. Again, no risk for them or their family. Coordinate with your Grand Knight and Financial Secretary.

We do not have to let the pandemic win. We must continue our work together. Bringing more men into our Councils is the only way we can ensure we will be able to do this into the future, able to do more and serve God's family together in new ways. Be not afraid! God Bless you!

THANK YOU, SIMON FEHN!!

For 25 years Brother Knight Simon has been publishing our council's newsletter. Simon is retiring from publishing our newsletter and Reuben Gboweh has taken over the publishing responsibilities. Simon thank you for the years of commitment and a job well done. May God continue His blessing on you and your family.
